“Read, not to contradict and confute, not to believe and take for granted, nor to find talk and discourse, but to weigh and consider.”—FRANCIS BACON.

Essay on “Studies” quoted by the Right Honourable Lord Herschell, Lord High Chancellor of England, at the Opening of the Public Library, October 24th, 1894.

“Books, we know,
Are a substantial world, both pure and good—
Round these, with tendrils strong as flesh and blood,
Our pastime and our happiness will grow.”

—WORDSWORTH.

“Definite reading is profitable, miscellaneous reading is pleasant.”—SENECA.

8.—The voucher, duly signed, must be delivered to the Librarian, and, if found correct, there will be granted, at the expiration of two days, a Borrower's Ticket.

9.—Any Guarantor desiring to withdraw from the engagement must give notice in writing to the Librarian, who will give a release as soon as he shall have ascertained that no liability has been incurred, or remains undischarged.

10.—A Borrower's ticket is available for twelve months from the date of issue, and must be renewed annually. When a ticket is granted or renewed the sum of one penny shall be paid for the same.

11.—A Borrower's ticket is not transferable; if a ticket be lost, the borrower or Guarantor will be held responsible for any book or books taken out of the Library by the use of it. Lost tickets can be replaced at the expiration of two days. A Borrower must produce his or her ticket upon every application for a book.

12.—On applying for a book, the borrower must deliver a form duly filled up, indicating the work or works which he or she requires.

13.—Any book borrowed must be returned within fourteen days, under a penalty of one penny for the whole or any portion of the first week over that time, and threepence for each week or portion of a week afterwards. If a book be not returned before the expiration of twenty-eight days from the day of issue, it shall be deemed to have been lost, and, in addition to paying the full fine incurred, the borrower or guarantor shall, unless the Committee make a special order to the contrary, replace the book, or set of books to which it may belong, or pay for the loss in manner mentioned in the next succeeding regulation.

14.—If any book be soiled, written in, "dog's eared," or otherwise injured, or lost, the borrower or his or her guarantor must immediately replace such book, or the set of books to which it may belong, or pay for the damage or loss. COLCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY CATALOGUE.

15.—A Borrower shall not exchange a book or books twice in the same day. No book shall be renewed, but the borrower who returns a book may have the same out again after the expiration of two days, provided it has not been issued to any other borrower in the meantime.

16.—If a book be out when applied for, the borrower may leave with the Librarian a post-card, directed to himself or herself. As soon as the book is returned to the Library, the card will be posted to the borrower, who must apply for the book upon the same day that he or she receives the card. (Printed post-cards may be had from the Librarian, one penny each.)

17.—A borrower shall not have more than one volume out at the same time (except consecutive works which are issued in more than one volume, in which case not more than three volumes shall be obtained at one time); and any person obtaining at the same time two separate works, on one ticket, shall be fined the sum of one shilling.

18.—A borrower changing his or her residence must within fourteen days, give the Librarian his or her ticket, together with his or her corrected address, otherwise the borrower will lose the right of borrowing books.

19.—All books must be returned to the Library on or before the 31st January and 31st July, in every year, whether the time allowed for reading has expired or not, under a penalty of one penny for each day beyond either of those dates.

20.—The Librarian shall have power to refuse a book to any borrower who has neglected to comply with these regulations; but any person so refused shall have liberty to appeal to the Committee.

21.—Catalogues will always be kept in the Lending and Reference Libraries, for the use of readers, and may be purchased at the delivery counter of the Library.

22.—A Book, Plan, Map, Manuscript, Periodical, Picture, or other article or thing belonging to the Library, shall not be taken out of the Reading or News Room on any pretence whatsoever (except such Papers or Periodicals as shall have been purchased from the Library, and shall be handed to each purchaser by the Librarian or his Assistant); and no such book, plan, map, manuscript, periodical, picture, or other article or thing shall be wilfully or maliciously destroyed or damaged, or written in or upon, soiled, marked, or injured in any manner whatsoever.

23.—A Suggestion Book will be kept in the Library, in which any reader may enter the name of any Book which he or she may consider desirable to be introduced into the Library. Such Book will be laid before the Committee at each meeting for consideration of the suggestions made.

COLCHESTER PUBLIC LIBRARY CATALOGUE.

24.—It is desirable that each Book shall be delivered to, and returned by, the borrower personally. When a borrower cannot conveniently attend at the Library, he or she is required to send a responsible messenger, competent to deliver his or her message, and take due care of the book. The Librarian shall refuse a book to any person who is not, in his judgment, competent to take due care of it.

25.—A book shall not be issued to any person living in a house, or employed in any place, in which an infectious disease is known to exist, and when any such disease has broken out in a house or in a place where any person living in such house is employed, while a book belonging to the Library is in the house, immediate notice shall be given to the Librarian, and the book shall not be returned until permission in writing stating the time and manner at and in which the same is to be returned has been given by the Librarian; and the borrower shall strictly observe the directions of the Librarian in these respects. A borrower shall not, nor shall any person on his or her behalf, apply for a book whilst any infectious disease exists at his or her respective dwelling, or at the place where he or she is respectively employed for the time being.

PREFATORY NOTE.

THE unforeseen popularity of the Public Library having speedily exhausted the stock of Catalogues printed previously to the opening of the Lending Department in 1894, the issue of a new Catalogue soon became a matter of necessity. It was, however, impossible to reprint the old Catalogue without serious loss, and therefore the Committee have deemed it best to wait till the additions to the Library justified them in issuing an entirely new Catalogue and in casting it into the dictionary form as originally contemplated.

The following table shows the additions made to the stock since October, 1894 :—

Class.	Indicator Numbers.	1894. Vols.	1896. Vols.
A Theology and Philosophy	1-500 ..	162	215
B Biography and Memoirs	501-1300 ..	337	495
C History, Voyages, Travels, and Topography ...	1301-2100 ..	294	665
D Law, Politics, and Political Economy	2101-2500 ..	92	108
E Arts, Sciences, and Natural History.....	2501-3200 ..	314	551
F Poetry, the Drama, and Classics.....	3201-3700 ..	199	297
G Prose Fiction	3701-8200 ..	1725	2531
H Miscellaneous Literature and Magazines	8201-8700 ..	201	342
Total.....		3324	5210
Reference Department		1310	1754
		4634	6964

The class letters are not printed in the Catalogue, as the classification under subjects renders them unnecessary, but in case of doubt a reference to the figures in the first column of above table will show the nature of any given work.

The Catalogue is arranged in strict alphabetical order of authors, titles, and subjects. Every work, with a few trifling exceptions by anonymous writers, is entered under its author. Every work of prose fiction is entered also under the first word of its title (not being an article). Every work in the other sections is entered under its subject or subjects, and, in cases where its title does not sufficiently express its scope, under the title also.

In order to assist borrowers the type used for authors' names is heavier than that used for titles, while it is hoped the use of capitals for the more important subject headings will also be of service to those searching the Catalogue, besides varying the monotony of effect otherwise produced.

Words within brackets are, as a rule, notes by the compiler to assist readers, and not parts of the title page of the works described.

The title of a book, followed by two numbers separated by a comma (e.g., 4261, 5167) indicates that two copies of the work are in the Library. Consecutive numbers joined by a hyphen (e.g., 1398-1409) indicate that the work is in two or more volumes, according to the number shown, only one of which (except as provided by Rule 17) is issued at a time.

It would not be right to issue this Catalogue without expressing the thanks due both from the compiler and the public generally to Mr. E. A. Dixon, whose kindness in revising the proofs and advising as to classification of books has, I hope, minimised the risk of errors inevitable in a work containing so great an amount of detail.

November 1st, 1896.

GEORGE RICKWORD.

A few Simple Suggestions for Readers.

- 1.—If possible always come for your own books.
- 2.—If also borrowing for a friend be careful not to mix the tickets.
- 3.—Consult the indicator, and after ascertaining the book you require to be in, hand in your book or ticket with the number of work desired, which will be handed you in exchange.

BLUE IS IN, RED IS OUT.

- 4.—Keep books wrapped up in transit, as, in the event of their getting wet from rain, or muddy from falls, fines will be incurred.
- 5.—Report to the Librarian before leaving the counter any defect you may observe in the book, as the last borrower is held responsible for any damage.
- 6.—Bear in mind the date of issue, so as to avoid fines. These are small, but in the interests of all readers are strictly enforced.
- 7.—While in use treat the book as carefully as if it were your own personal property.

COLCHESTER:

PUBLISHED AT THE PUBLIC LIBRARY, WEST STOCKWELL STREET.

1903.

NOTE.

The present Supplement to the General Catalogue embraces about 2,500 Books, being those purchased during the period from 1897 to 1903, thus bringing it up to date. As it is not probable that the Catalogue will be reprinted for some years to come, it is proposed to issue with future Annual Reports lists of purchases made by the Library Committee. Each work is entered once only, under its main class heading.

The Indicator will enable intending Borrowers to know whether any Book catalogued is available for issue, or not, but the Librarian in charge will always be ready to give any additional information required, or to permit the inspection of works not fully described in the Catalogue.

Modifications of the Rules

SANCTIONED BY

THE PUBLIC LIBRARY COMMITTEE

(SUBJECT TO ALTERATION ON NOTICE GIVEN).

NON-RESIDENT BORROWERS.

RULE VIII.—Householders residing beyond the limits of the Borough are permitted to borrow Books. For terms, apply to the Librarian.

APPLICATIONS FOR BOOKS.

RULE XIII.—“In applying for a Book, the Borrower must deliver a form, duly filled in, indicating the work required.”

This Rule has never been acted upon, but in view of the large number (over 8,000) of Tickets issued, and the consequent difficulty of identifying each individual, Borrowers will render great assistance to the staff if they will kindly hand in their Books and receive their tickets before making choice of fresh works, so as to enable any mistake to be rectified at the time.

RULE XXV.—Borrowers are reminded that messengers (especially if acting for more than one person) should be furnished with full particulars as to their respective senders, and that inability to furnish any reasonable information requested, or to pay any fines incurred may entail a refusal to issue books to such imperfectly authorised persons.

RENEWALS.

RULE XV.—Any Book, not in Class G (Prose Fiction), may be renewed if not wanted by another borrower.

STUDENTS' TICKETS.

GEORGE RICKWORD,
Borough Librarian.

Reference Department.

As there exists very little demand for Catalogues of this Department, it has not been thought advisable to increase the cost of this Supplement by including the works added since 1896. A complete Card Catalogue is in course of preparation, and the Librarian will at all times be pleased to afford enquirers any information.

Among the more important additions are the following :—

Encyclopædia Britannica (10th Edition).
Dictionary of National Biography.
Catalogue of Printed Books. British Museum.
Early English Text Society's Publications (complete set).
Berry's Encyclopædia Heraldica.
Burke's Peerage and Baronetage.
Lowndes' Bibliographer's Manual.
Haydn's Book of Dignities and Dictionary of Dates.
Hone's Every Day Book and Year Book.

The local section now contains complete sets of—

Transactions Essex Archæological Society.
Essex Review.
Home Counties Magazine.
East Anglian Notes and Queries.
Poll Books.

Also Victoria County History of Essex.

Chancellor's Ancient Sepulchral Monuments of Essex.
Benham's Red Paper Book of Colchester.
Cartulary of St. John's Abbey, Colchester.

And many parochial histories, local pamphlets, and miscellaneous publications.

This section of the Library is the subject of special care, and the Committee will be pleased to receive any donations of books or pamphlets bearing upon the History of the Borough of Colchester or the County of Essex.
